Question:
Do you prefer connecting with a large group of friends or meeting with just one or two friends? Explain your choice.

Answer:
I would prefer to meet with just one or two friends because a large group of people would never listen to each other. Whenever you see a large group of people on streets you might think that they are having fun but just think for a second. Could you listen and understand that many person in one go? How precious would they be? If you meet with one or two friends at the same time all of you will have time to talk about yourselves and listen to each other. I believe that it is better than not being listened.
